PREFACE

Some years ago I became convinced that a bibliography of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, which has now existed for a century and a half, should be compiled, and that such a work would demonstrate that the Society has had a not inconsiderable influence on American letters. The present attempt, however great may be its imperfections, it seems to me amply justifies my belief. A large number of our best public addresses, and a respectable number of poems of merit, have been delivered originally before gatherings of the Phi Beta Kappa; and thus the aims and ideals of the Society have found expression in literature of enduring excellence.

I desire to express my deep gratitude to all those who have co-operated in this undertaking. In some cases the amount of work necessitated was considerable, and it is duly appreciated.

The following arrangement has been adopted:

1. General catalogues.
2. Books and articles relating to the Fraternity in general.
The order is chronological.
3. Publications relating to individual chapters. The order is chronological.
 - a. Catalogues.
 - b. Orations and addresses.
 - c. Poems.
 - d. General articles.
4. Publications relating to alumni associations. The arrangement is the same as under No. 3.
5. References to bibliographies of members.
6. Portraits contained in publications of the Fraternity.
7. Poems in The Phi Beta Kappa Key.

It should be added that many of the chapter catalogues contain brief though well written sketches of the history of the Fraternity. Only the more elaborate of these have been included in the list under No. 2. Nor has any account been rendered of the college and university annuals, usually published by the junior class, in which the names of the active members of the various chapters are recorded.

I shall be grateful to any one who will inform me of omissions or errors in these lists. All such information will be embodied in a supplementary list.

This is a second and revised edition of a work which first appeared in The Phi Beta Kappa Key from May, 1913, to May, 1920.

1840. CALEB SPRAGUE HENRY (1804-1884).

According to the records of the chapter, this address was printed; but no trace of it has been found. I think, but cannot prove, that it was the following: The Position and Duties of the Educated Men | of the Country. | A | Discourse | Pronounced Before the | Euglossian and Alpha Phi Delta Societies | of | Geneva College, | Aug. 5, 1840, | by | C. S. Henry, D.D., | Professor of Intellectual Philosophy and Belles Lettres in the University | of the City of New York. | Published by the Societies. | New York: | Robert Craighead, Printer, 112 Fulton Street. | MDCCCXL. | 23 cm., pp. 46, [1]. It seems to me quite unlikely that Dr. Henry would prepare two entirely different orations for such a purpose in the same year. I have not been able to see his Considerations . . . of Social Welfare, New York, 1861, which may include this.

1841. TAYLER LEWIS (1802-1877). *The Believing Spirit: | a Discourse | Delivered Before the | New Hampshire Alpha | of the | Phi Beta Kappa Society, | at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H. | on the 28th July, 1841. | By Tayler Lewis, Esq. | Professor of Greek in the University of the City of New-York. | New-York: | Office of The Iris, or Literary Messenger. | 1841. | 22.5 cm., pp. 39.*

1843. LEVI WOODBURY (1789-1851). An | Oration | Before the | Phi Beta Kappa Society | of | Dartmouth College, | by | Hon. Levi Woodbury. | Hanover: | Dartmouth Press. | 1844. | 23 cm., pp. 27. Published by request of the society. On progress.

Presumably reprinted in his Writings, Boston, Little & Brown, 1852.

1844. RICHARD BURLEIGH KIMBALL (1816-1892). The True Life of the Scholar: | an | Address | Delivered Before the | Literary Societies | of | Dartmouth College, | Hanover, N. H., | July 24, 1844. | By | Richard B. Kimball, Esq. | Published at the Request of the Societies. | New York: | George Ambrose & Co. | 1844. | 23 cm., pp. 18.

1845. LEONARD BACON (1802-1881). Oration, | Before the | Phi Beta Kappa Society | of | Dartmouth College, | Delivered | July 30, 1845. | By Leonard Bacon, | Pastor of the First Church in New-Haven, Conn. | Hanover: | Printed at the Dartmouth Press. | September, 1845. | 23 cm., pp. 23. On the nature of liberal education.

1846. JOEL PARKER (1795-1875). Progress. | An | Address | Before the | Phi Beta Kappa Society | of | Dartmouth College, | July 29, 1846. | By Joel Parker. | Hanover: | Printed at the Dartmouth Press. | October, 1846. | 23.1 cm., pp. 26. The author is skeptical with regard to our alleged progress.

1833. HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW (1807-1882). The Past and the Present.

Subject, education. Does not appear in his published works. A revised form of a poem delivered in 1832 before the Bowdoin Chapter. See Samuel Longfellow, The Life of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Boston, 1891, i. 195. An extract (The Soul) was published in The Knickerbocker Magazine, January, 1835, v. 71. See The Key ii. 6. 293.

1834. RALPH WALDO EMERSON (1803-1882). Delivered in August.

Begins:

Is not this house a harp whose living chords,
Touched by a Poet with electric words,
Would vibrate with a harmony more true
Than Handel's married thunders ever knew?

Somewhat less than half of the poem is printed in The Key, January, 1913, i. 10. 25-8.

Not published as a whole. The original manuscript is in the Harvard Library. 4to, pp. 15. A few lines at the end describing Webster are printed in his Poems, Works, Riverside Edition, Boston, 1884, ix. 312; Centenary Edition, Boston, 1904, ix. 398-9. Also reprinted by Arthur Copeland, in his Men and Days in Phi Beta Kappa, Newark, N. Y., 1907, 8vo, p. 56. Copeland is apparently in error in saying that it was read at Dartmouth; there is no mention of such a thing in the Dartmouth records. Cf. J. E. Cabot, Memoir, i. 228; Emerson's Journals, Boston, Houghton, 1910, iii. 333.

5. REFERENCES TO BIBLIOGRAPHIES OF MEMBERS

The following list makes no pretence to completeness. I am well aware that many sources of information are not accessible to me. Still, I have used such sources as have been accessible (see the list of abbreviations below), and I am inclined to believe that the list has some value as it stands. I have omitted some names of members who were represented in the annual bibliographies only for short periods of time.
